Italy and Vatican Strive To Avert Rupture

SECRET PARLEYS
DESIGNED TO END

Pope Denies That Closed
Societies Were Political;
Y. M. C. A. Allowed To Reopen Because of Affiliation With Fascists.

CARDINAL GASPARRI
REPRESENTS POPE

Nation Awaits Clarifying of Brief Order Dissolving Catholic Young People's Group.

BY JOHN EVANS.
ROME, June 2.—(P)—Secret negotiations to break the deadlock between the holy see and the Italian state in the present crisis were in progress
tonight.

Following the closing of Catholic youth clubs by the Italian government, it was learned conversations
are being conducted by Cardinal Gasparri, who signed the Lateran treaty
and concordat in 1929 with Premier Mussolini.

Cardinal Gasparri spent an hour today in the office of the papal secretary of state and it is generally understood the aged retired statesman
is connected with the handling of the present situation.

Considerable mystery surrounds
these conversations and the identity of others taking part in them. Both the papal and the Italian foreign offices say they are proceeding, but no
details have been made public.

Observers point significantly to the fact that the papal nuncio to Rome
is still at his post. Many diplomats and even Vatican officials had expected his recall as a protest to the dual, banning of the Catholic youth organizations.

The pontiff, instead, is abiding his
time, but losing no opportunity to express his disapproval of the action
of the fascist government.

Again today he told Mexican pilgrims to the Vatican that the Catholic Action was never a political group.
He advised the visitors to be careful not to mingle in politics.

The pope said he was particularly glad to see his sons from Mexico because they were much dearer to him
as their sufferings had been great.

Meanwhile, the atmosphere today
was cleared of some of its doubts.
Playgrounds of the Knights of Columbus were said to have been closed
under the general order against Catholic organizations. The Y. M. C. A.,
however, through a sort of affiliation
with the Ballila, an organization for fascist boys, was allowed to reopen
after half an hour's technical closing of one room.

Another doubt removed was that
of some quarters about the finality
of Mussolini's dissolution of the Catholic youth societies. It was shown by the foreign office's announcement that the dissolution was real, although Mussolini can rescind the order later,
thus enabling the clubs to reorganize.

So far Italy's only news of the dissolution has been limited to the 45-
word official communique issued last night and published without comment
in all papers. Under the communique newspapers carried a statement of the strength of fascist youth organizations, whose total memberships were given as 1,700,000.

A brief statement is expected from the premier tomorrow evening after a meeting of the fascist party directorate of 18 leaders.

Seeks Peace.

Cardinal Gasparri, one of the principal framers of the Lateran treaty between the Vatican and Italy, Tuesday came from retirement in an effort to maintain the fruits of this pact which was to have settled the "Roman question" for all time but which now is in serious danger of disruption due to friction between the fascists and Catholics.

BOTH N. J. PARTIES ASK DRY REPEAL

State Organizations Draw
Platforms To Support
Wet Candidates.

TRENTON, N. J., June 2.—(P)—
The democratic and republican state conventions, following the lead of their candidates for governor, today
adopted platforms declaring for repeal of the eighteenth amendment and return to the states of liquor control.

A. Harry Moore, a former governor, lawyer, and prominent figure in New Jersey's political life, and the democrats go a step further and declare for liberalization of the Volstead act pending repeal to permit sale of light wines and beer and repeal of the state enforcement act. No reference was made to enforcement.

David Baird, the republican nominee, wealthy lumberman, and a former United States senator by appointment, followed the stand of United States Senator Morrow in urging strict enforcement pending repeal.

It was Morrow's successful campaign for the senate that led the republicans last year to adopt for the first time a platform favoring repeal.

Moore today told the democratic convention that prohibition "has made a speakeasy of the American home."
It has made a hero out of the gunman,
thief and murderer. It has created whole departments of the government and the corruption is by no
means confined to the underworld.

Baird asserted that organized crime, inevitably linked with prohibition, was a problem comparable with unemployment.

"It is," he said, "idle to expect that the conditions which have created racketeers and racketeering will change merely by inveighing against them, or by the open proclamation
that the state will ignore its fealty
to the federal government and will lend aid and comfort to those who defy society—who know no law but
force and violence."

He asserted he would work for repeal by constitutional procedure.
But could not "subscribe to the policy
of rebellion and nullification."

Burke Leaves Memphis To Stand Trial Here

MEMPHIS, Tenn., June 2.—(P)— C. H. Burke, who, postal authorities say, admitted five marriages within a year, left here tonight in custody of a deputy United States marshal for Atlanta to plead to an indictment returned in Georgia federal court against "Jim E. Howard," one of the aliases Burke is alleged to have used.

Mr. Benson is in Atlanta, that after marrying her he decamped with her money and jewels.

Burke was arrested here last week
at the request of postoffice inspectors
who had trailed him for several months in various sections of the country.

FORMER ATLANTAN SEIZES EVIDENCE IN MURDER TRIAL

Garrison, Accused of Killing San Diego Girl, Attempts To Search Trousers in Court.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., June 2.—(P)— Moss E. Garrison, 37, railway commissary clerk and former Atlantan,
undergoing preliminary hearing on a charge of murdering Hazel Bradshaw,
his former fiancée, threw the court
into an uproar today by snatching up
a pair of trousers the prosecution had entered as an exhibit and hastily searching them.

Captain Paul J. Hayes, in charge of the police investigation of the stabbing of the 22-year-old telephone operator, was on the witness stand. He jumped to his feet and took the trousers away from Garrison, placing them out of his reach.

Hayes had testified that several wild outbursts, similar to those growing inside the Indian village in Balboa park, where Miss Bradshaw's body was found a month ago, were discovered in the cuffs of the trousers
just introduced as evidence. He said the trousers were worn by Garrison
on the night of the slaying.

A. Fairchild, Garrison's counsel, shifted his questioning immediately
after Garrison had handled the exhibit, to inquire of Hayes whether wild outbursts grew in other places than in the Indian village.

Hayes said the weed was found on almost every uncarved foot vacant lot
as well.

After his act, Garrison mumbled
some explanation which no one heard
through the excited buzz set up by spectators. He settled back in his chair as Hayes placed the trousers
out of his reach.

Hayes also testified Garrison told him he had cut the pockets out of the trousers to make a bandage for a finger cut while he was making sandwiches in the commissary department
of the railroad for which both he and the girl worked.

Hayes said Garrison's finger was cut
on his own finger when he half an inch long and that bloodstains were found on the flaps of both side pockets.

Garrison was with Miss Bradshaw
by his own admission, until midnight
of the night she was killed.

Fairchild questioned Hayes concerning the reason for Garrison's arrest.
He intimated the police had tried to make a "got" of Garrison since the Bradshaw murder was the fourth of a series this spring involving women
or girls, and no one had been arrested at that time in connection with the first three slayings.

Hayes denied there was any attempt made to "pin the crime on Garrison" by the police.

The defense contends another man
met Miss Bradshaw after Garrison took her home, and slew her in an automobile, taking the body to the park, through which Garrison and the girl had walked a short time before.

He asserted he would work for re-
peal by constitutional procedure.
But could not "subscribe to the policy
of rebellion and nullification."

Amateur Plane Pilot Is Hurt at Savannah

SAVANNAH, Ga., June 2.—(P)—
J. K. Livingston Jr., 25 years of age, amateur air pilot, fell approximately 300 feet in a small three-cylinder,
45-horse power motorized monoplane
near the local airport late this afternoon and received critical injuries.

While going into the wind the motor was stalled or throttled down,
and as Livingston tried to turn the plane it took a sudden dip and fell through a clump of trees north of the airport.

One of Livingston's legs was broken,
his face badly cut and internal injuries were received.

Modern U.S. Newspaper Lauded by Major Cohen

Present Publications Superior From a Standpoint of Intelligence, As Well As Mechanically, Convention Hears—Flynn Hits Government.

The public today is getting a better newspaper, not only from a mechanical standpoint, but from one of intelligence, than it was not so many years ago, Major John S. Cohen, of The Atlanta Journal, told the convention of the National Editorial Association in an address Tuesday afternoon. His address and the talk by Cranston Williams, secretary-manager
of the Southern Newspaper Publishers' Association, were the outstanding speeches of the second day's afternoon session of the publishers.

Mr. Cranston dealt with the practices of free publicity in many newspapers as an adjunct to securing advertising.

"We are prone," Major Cohen said,
"to think of the past in the sense of perfection, but it is a matter of truth
that the public today is receiving a more intelligently-edited newspaper
than in any day in journalism. No field of endeavor is left untouched in the columns of the modern newspaper.

In addition to news of the world and advertisements of the life of the modern paper prints subjects on art,
drama, literature, and every other range of endeavor is covered." And publishers make statements that they consider radio real competition.

"If you do not own a radio station
or operate one," he advised the editors, "you should utilize the advantages of the radio to the fullest extent. It is not and never has been a competitor. Neither will television, when it comes.

The future of the newspaper is in the hands of those responsible for its publication. If we do not abuse the liberty of the press—and the United States press enjoys the only liberty
given newspapers—the daily newspaper will grow in power and influence.

In conclusion he urged the editors
not to reduce salaries.

"The men who actually make our great newspapers," he said, "already are far underpaid. Let us cut our dividends. But do not let us cut salaries."

Condemning the policy of some newspapers that carry free publicity
with advertising matter, Williams described this practice as "commercial bribery."

Pointing out that the Southern Newspaper Publishers' Association is constantly on the alert for free publicity stunts, the speaker said:

"It is remarkable the number of agencies that derive profit from the indifference or carelessness of publishers. Some advertisers and agencies engage in what we may consider questionable practices."

ANDERSON URGES FARM EDUCATION

Macon Manufacturer Advocates 10-Year Program of "Teaching."

MOULTREE, Ga., June 2.—(P)— William D. Anderson, president of the Bibb Manufacturing Company, Macon, Ga., today told the Rotary
and Kiwanis clubs in joint session
that "the United States should inaugurate and consistently foster a 10-
year educational plan for the American farmer."

The meeting was held here in connection with the celebration of National Cotton Week.

"The great mass of farmers," the cotton manufacturer declared, "are inefficient in their methods and productivity to high a cost. They have learned the lesson that others have learned, that the unit of production
is the important thing, that the cost of production and not alone the selling price should be given first consideration."

He added that the cotton farmer in particular has failed to take into consideration that "the difference between the cost of production and the sale price is the measure of his success."

CANADA'S REVISION OF DUTIES REVIVES DISPUTE ON TARIFF

Democrats See Retaliation in Changes, While Republicans Deny U. S.
Rates Caused Hike.

WASHINGTON, June 2.—(P)—
Canadian tariff increases brought immediate political reverberations today, but administrative circles declined official comment.

Democrats and republicans issued statements expressing varying views
and at his Salt Lake City home,
Senator Smoot, co-author of the United States tariff bill, said the Canadian action was not a retaliation against the Hawley-Smoot act.

Chairman J. H. Shouse, of the democratic national executive committee, said the Hawley-Smoot tariff
"is a definite issue and in so far as I can speak for it I predict the democratic party will gladly accept the challenge."

Canada's rate increases he termed
"a more blow to our industries already suffering from the ruination of our foreign markets by the Smoot-Hawley tariff."

He charged that through that act
"our commercial business with Canada is cut in half."

Assailing the administration, he contended it "could not have inflicted greater punishment on American business had it deliberately sought to alienate our best customer."

State department officials continued their silence pending a full report of the changes from Minister McNider. Any future action after through study would be through diplomatic channels.

Commerce department figures showed approximately one-fourth of last year's exports to Canada, valued at $85,325,000, would be affected by the new duties. They indicated the greatest effect of the higher levies will be
felt by coal, steel, automobiles and
orange.

Senator Hastings, Delaware, said
through the republican national committee, in reply to a previous statement by the governor's welcome to Tennessee, urging downward tariff revision, that Hull "appears to have chosen an unfortunate moment for his latest tariff assault inasmuch as his demand for revision appeared simultaneously with the announcement by Prime Minister Bennett, of the new duties. They indicated the greatest effect of the higher levies will be
felt by coal, steel, automobiles and
orange."

Senator Harrison, Mississippi, ranking democrat on the finance committee which helped frame the 1930 tariff act, said through the national committee that "Canada's action
will further affect legitimate American industry."

Senator La Follette, Wisconsin, republican, who opposed the Hawley-Smoot bill as a member of the finance committee, joined Harrison in calling Canada's action a retaliation against the United States tariff wall.

However, Senator Couzens, republican, said, "another fine committee member, described the Canadian increases as an effort to aid her
farmers and not retaliation."

"Canada's action," La Follette said,
"will contribute to the already alarming decrease in American exports."

In Utah, Smoot said "there are no
inconsistencies in the tariff schedules. Canadians want to hold the present wage scale as against lower wages in other countries."

Fear was expressed in some commerce department quarters that the Canadian increase on coal may turn additional business to Great Britain.

Cites Need of Change

FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT.

ALABAMA GREETES VETERANS OF GRAY

'Cradle of the Confederacy' Surrenders to Legions of 'Lost Cause.'

MONTGOMERY, Ala., June 2.— (P)—Survivors of the legions that followed Lee and Jackson in the "Lost Cause," today "captured" Montgomery and to-night their march will be in "The Cradle of the Confederacy."

To the roar of cannon firing a salute, General W. L. Stephens, of Coun-shatta, La., commander-in-chief of the United Confederate Veterans, entered
the city shortly before noon and half an hour later Governor B. M. Miller, with all the graciousness of a conquered foe, surrendered the golden key to Alabama.

General Stephens, weak from a recent illness, was accorded an ovation
as he made his triumphant journey
from the station to the capitol. Standing on the Jefferson Davis stair that marks the spot where the president of the Confederacy took the oath of office 70 years ago, General Stephens received the key to Alabama from the governor as a token of surrender of the city and the state to the legions of veterans during their forty-first annual reunion.

This key, General Stephens, said
Governor Miller will unlock to you and your men every door in this capitol where Jefferson Davis worked.
It will unlock every door in the city
of Montgomery and the golden key to Alabama. The city and the state welcome
you and your men.

General Stephens' reply was scarcely audible, as comrades of yesterday
cheered and the governor's welcome
words. As General Stephens stepped up on the capitol porch, a group of veterans, their uniforms speaking of their newness and the golden key glittering in the noonday sun, snapped
to attention and saluted smartly.

One of the group, who described himself as "a Methodist circuit rider,"
pressed forward and grasped General Stephens' hand. "I want to shake hands with my commander, and I hope to meet in the great command up there."

Alabama's supreme court chamber
was turned into an emergency hospital,
with a trained nurse in attendance to tend first aid to tired and weary Confederate soldiers.

Hospital cots were placed around
the chamber for use by veterans who needed rest, and the long line of bill to the state capitol to visit the shrine of the Confederacy.

The welcoming ceremony at the capitol was the only function of the day, and the remainder of the time
the veterans had to themselves, to re-
light battles of nearly 70 years ago
with old comrades beneath shade trees
at Camp Stephens park, or attend
the many amusements staged for their benefit.

Sightseeing parties were arranged
for those who cared to visit shrines
of the Confederacy, and throughout the day there was open house at the capitol, where guides pointed out things of interest.

The department of archives and history moved Confederate relics to the rotunda of the capitol from the second story. Here hundreds of the veterans bowed over the case containing the Jefferson Davis Bible, on which the left hand of the Confederate
president rested as he was sworn in.

RITCHIE ADVOCATES

Speeches Come as Sur-

FRENCH LICK, Ind., June 2.—
(UP)—Genial Governor Franklin D.
Roosevelt, of New York; debonair,
white-mustached Governor Pinchot, of Pennsylvania, and Albert C. Ritchie, perpetual governor of Maryland, broke through official taboos at the annual governors' conference today to speak
their minds on the business depression,
electric power monopolies, and probi-
tion.

Governor Pinchot, who was scheduled to talk on forest conservation,
told the assembled governors instead
that 90 per cent of the power generated in the United States is under the domination and control of four major interests, whose threat to undermine government by the people cannot be met by the states alone.

Governor Roosevelt, in talking about the business depression, which had been left off the schedule of speeches, advocated "leadership and experimentation" to meet the "new economic and social balance in the highly urbanized civilization."

The responsibility of doing what it takes to reverse the depression, with considered forethought and along constructive lines.

Four-point plan.
New York governor outlined a
four-point plan to combat depression,
thus:

1. Scientific tariff aimed primarily to create a movement of world commodities from one nation to another.
2. A better system of national taxation.

3. A plan to cut excessive cost of local government.

4. Extension of insurance to cover
fields of sickness and unemployment.

most of the remainder of the world is

GAS RATE HEARING MAY CLOSE TODAY

City Seeks Postponement of Decision Pending New Property Appraisal

Unless the request of the city of Atlanta is granted for postponement of a decision until such time as the borough may make a separate appraisal of the company's property, the Georgia public service commission today will hear final argument on the application of the Atlanta Gas Light and affiliated companies for an increase in rates.

Formal motion for a postponement has never been made, James A. Perry, chairman of the commission, said Tuesday. Councilman Joseph E. Berman, chairman of the mayor's special gas rate committee, announced late Tuesday he would ask for the deferment.

Through Judge A. H. Freeman, of Newnan, the cities served by the Georgia Natural Gas Company are expected to file a brief in support of their opposition to any increase in rates at present.

James L. Mayson, city attorney, will make the argument for Atlanta today in the event the commission rejects the motion for a postponement of consideration. Robert C. Alston will present the case for the gas company.

Mayson said Tuesday that "unless the city can conduct an audit, it will be working under a heavy handicap." Berman asserted a city audit would reduce the company's appraisal of its property by $3,000,000 and result in a great saving to Atlanta consumers.

Acting Mayor G. Everett Millican Tuesday afternoon held on his desk a council resolution setting up $5,000 for an independent survey of gas company properties in Atlanta. Berman, Mayson and other borough officials this morning will predetermine a plan for a continuance in this resolution which Millican indicated he will sign this morning.

Millican approved a council resolution naming Alderman J. Charlie Murphy and Councilman John A. White members of the special council committee studying municipal ownership of utilities, and Alderman John E. Scott, chairman of the committee, announced that an effort will be made immediately to include borough operation of all utilities. Heretofore the council's fight has been restricted to electrical utilities.

KIPPER SAYS BALLOONS Can Rise 100,000 Feet

BERLIN, June 2.—(AP)—Charles Kipper, who was Professor August Piccard's companion on a balloon flight to the stratosphere, wants to try it again and believes that with a specially-constructed balloon he could go as high as 100,000 feet. He and Professor Piccard reached 52,500 feet.

"I am convinced," said Kipper today, "that a balloon bag with many gas chambers, each regulated from the gondola by a separate valve would rise as high as 100,000 feet without danger or even hardship to the occupants."

I. C. C. HEARS OPINIONS ON HAULING BY MOTOR

WASHINGTON, June 2.—(AP)—A variety of opinion on regulation of highway motor transportation was presented today to the interstate commerce commission in a series of briefs in connection with the inquiry designed to develop recommendations to congress.

Railroad employees, receivers for the Seaboard Air Line, the Railway Express agency, the Norfolk Southern and the Interstate Motor Carriers' Association were among those filing briefs.

The railroad employees through the Railway Labor Executives' Association, an organization of the heads of railroad labor unions and brotherhoods, asked the commission to consider the conditions under which motor truck and bus employees work and to remove restrictions from railroads that they might compete freely on the highways.

The Interstate Motor Carriers said to regulate interstate common carrier buses and trucks would force a monopoly, restrict development of highway transportation and make the interstate common carrier truck "the helpless prey of the private carrier and the contract and privately owned truck."

Receivers for the Seaboard Air Line urged that some means of regulating trucks and bus rates be devised and restrictions removed from the railroads. The passenger traffic of the Seaboard, the brief said, fell from 6,900,638 passengers in 1920 to 1,560,158 in 1929 due to bus competition. Carload freight was said to be 8.3 per cent less in 1930 than in 1925 and less than carload shipments 28.4 per cent lower due to truck competition.

Saying it did not "ask a monopoly of transportation business" the Norfolk Southern added it "seriously objected to the unregulated facilities being accorded a monopoly of freedom to operate at will, to charge what they please and to take whatever class of property they may desire, especially when the common carrier is forced to compete with the unregulated facilities that is diverted from the regulated carriers."

STATUE OF DAVIS PLACED IN CAPITOL

Confederate Leader Takes Place With Other Heroes in Statuary Hall.

WASHINGTON, June 2.—(AP)—A statue of Jefferson Davis was unveiled today in Statuary Hall in the presence of an applauding audience, including those who fought in battle with the only president of the Confederacy.

The towering figure of the man who once waited in irons to be tried for treason took its place alongside the heroes of other states whose likenesses previously had been placed in the hall at the capitol.

At the same time a statue of James Z. George, a private under Davis in the Mexican War, chief justice of Mississippi and long a United States senator, was unveiled.

Senator Pat Harrison, of Mississippi, said in an address on Davis there "never was a moment's doubt as to Mississippi's first choice" for a hero she has waited 66 years to bestow.

"As Mississippi places herein these bronze statues of her great warriors, statesmen and leaders," Harrison said, "the last link is forged in a chain that will hold together this nation forever."

Senator Stephens, of Mississippi, praised the artist, George, saying "A people pays a tribute to itself when it gives due recognition to true greatness."

Great-granddaughter of the Confederate president, Miss Adele Hayes Davis, pulled a cord unfurling a flag from the statue of her ancestor. Beside her, Miss Katy Boyd, granddaughter of the other statesman, similarly unveiled his statue.

Melodies of the old south—"Way Down Upon the Swanne River," "Old Black Joe," and finally the song "Dixie" was played by the marine band. One veteran, Captain D. D. Jackson, of the 10th Virginia regiment, wore his gray uniform to the ceremonies. Among other spectators were one-time Union soldiers.

On behalf of Governor Bilbo, of Mississippi, Kelly J. Hammond, secretary of the Davis-George statues commission, made the presentation of the work of Augustus Lukeman, New York sculptor.

Edgar S. Wilson, Mississippi newspaperman who said he visualized Davis in action at Buena Vista, recalled the farewell address in which he heard Davis declare he had no complaint for remaining unpardoned, "since repentance must needs precede."

Wilson also recounted Davis waiting in the stocks for trial after the war. After he was captured by federal troops 66 years ago.

David Clay Bramlette, chairman of the commission, introduced the speaker, Stone Draxters, dean of the University of Mississippi Law School, eulogized George. The Rev. James Shera Montgomery, chaplain of the house, and the Rev. Z. T. Phillips, chaplain of the senate, pronounced the invocation and benediction.

A congressional committee ushered in the statue, presented by the statesman, in the south gallery of the capitol. Many of the heroes, a number of kin of the official, Finis Garrett, of Tennessee, former speaker of the house, were among those present.

William Tyler, clerk of the house, whose family was divided in Maryland in the Civil War, looked on and said: "This may be said to be the last drama of the war."

JEFFERSON STANDARD AGENTS IN CONTEST

Plans for a contest between the Atlanta agents of the Jefferson Standard Life Insurance Company and those throughout the rest of the state were announced by I. H. Gantt, branch manager here, at a luncheon Monday night at the Piedmont hotel.

Mr. Gantt, who has recently taken charge of the Georgia agency, presided at the luncheon. Among the speakers in addition to Mr. Gantt were J. C. Jenkins, who has recently come to Atlanta as city supervisor of the agency, and Mrs. Harriet Archer.

A well-planned scheme to flee, the DeKalb county jail Monday night, in which 15 prisoners were involved, was thwarted because the would-be jailbreakers forgot that acid emitted an odor.

Dick McDay, deputy jailer, while making his rounds at 8:30 o'clock, smelled the pungent fumes of acid, which he thought was out of place in a jail. Investigating, he found wax cups had been ingeniously fashioned to hold acid in such a way as to soften the temporary steel bars sufficiently to allow hacksaws to cut through them.

Most of the prisoners in the block affected are being held on charges of felony. Sheriff Jake Hall said if the plan had not been discovered when it was, all 15 prisoners in that section would have escaped.

No explanation had been offered late Tuesday as to how the acid and tools were smuggled into the jail, and the prisoners denied knowledge of the plot. An investigation was immediately started and information bearing on the incident is expected shortly.

CHANGE IN RATES ON SUGAR DENIED

WASHINGTON, June 2.—(AP)—Examiner Berry today recommended to the interstate commerce commission that it decline to interfere with joint barge and rail rates on sugar when the water-borne route is used in transit facilities.

The report followed an investigation of complaints of railroads that the country's millions of semi-starved and mobile and certain nearby points to southeastern destinations should be higher than one joint barge and rail rate. The report was arranged at Birmingham on route to their destinations.

GANDHI TO OUTLINE HINDU-MOSLEM CASE

SIMLA, India, June 2.—(AP)—Mahatma Gandhi today definitely decided that if the Hindu-Moslem communal problem is not settled he will go to London only to explain the nationalists' position to the second round-table conference, and not as an official delegate.

His decision is giving the government some anxious moments, and has upset all the victory's plans. Gandhi's attitude is contrary to all the more surprising, because it is held here that in signing the Delhi pact with Lord Irwin he committed himself actively to participate in the next conference.

Gandhi's associates say he feels that even if India is given a new constitution with responsibility resting in Indian hands, it will fall far short of the nationalists'

KEY FRIENDS SEEK VOTE ON CENSURE

Decision To Be Forced on White Paper, Beck and Loehr Announce.

Another councilmanic battle over the attempted removal of Mayor James L. Key because he said prohibition in America is a failure in a Parisian interview was seen Tuesday when Councilmen Frank Beck, of the eighth ward, and Councilman H. Turner Loehr, of the first, said they will force the John A. White condemnation paper from the table at the next session and definitely dispose of it.

Beck's announcement came after receipt by The Constitution of a resolution passed by the executive committee of the Tenth Ward W. C. T. U. pointing to the mayor "as one of the best arguments for prohibition."

The resolutions were signed by Mrs. T. T. Warr, acting secretary, and contend that had Key "made such a statement as is attributed to him from Paris now—he would have been overwhelmingly defeated."

"We thought that when council voted to lay the White paper on the table until Key returns it meant that it was tabled for good, unless the council saw fit to vote it off the table," Beck explained. "That is why I and many others of Key's friends permitted it to reach the table. Under a ruling of City Attorney James L. Mayson, we are informed that it will come automatically again before council."

"There is nothing for us to do but to dispose of the measure at once." The matter will dwindle down primarily to an administration fight. It was predicted, with White still insisting that council force Key to "ask forgiveness of the people of Atlanta whom his utterances injured."

Another outstanding development in the controversy: Tuesday was a letter to Key from Herbert Kaiser, Atlanta real estate man, who approved Key's statement that prohibition is a failure and who suggested that mayors should unite to change the law as an economic necessity.

When the White paper was offered Monday in council, the author forced it to the table pending Key's return, when it comes again before that body. The Beck-Loehr effort will be to force the measure back on the floor and definitely dispose of it before Key's return.

Kaiser's letter said:

"With things going from bad to worse daily, and all students of economics unable to see any probability of improvement, the only thing that suggests itself to my mind is a change in the present prohibition law. That the present prohibition law is a complete failure is most obvious. Not only do I fully agree with you, but I believe that your expressions and attitude are most timely."

"I believe if the group of mayors would return to their respective homes and engage the interest of one of their leading newspapers that much could be done toward bringing about a definite decision."

SIXTEEN INDICTED IN ELECTION PROBE

GREENSBORO, N. C., June 2.—(AP)—Sixteen persons were indicted by a federal grand jury here today on charges of conspiracy to injure a number of persons in the exercise of civil rights in the election in Watauga county, November 4, 1930.

"Stolen" Gun Plans In Owner's Possession

WASHINGTON, June 2.—(AP)—The mystery surrounding the reported theft of machine gun designs in which the navy was interested vanished today with the discovery by the owner that they were still in his possession.

The announcement was made shortly after department of justice agents took up the search for the supposedly stolen plans at the request of the navy department.

STATE LEADERS TO BOOM COTTON

Agricultural commissioners of Louisiana and Mississippi will be the principal speakers at today's meeting, to be held in the senate chamber of the capitol, for the organization of the Southwestern Association for the Increased Use of Cotton.

Eugene Talmadge, Georgia commissioner of agriculture, who is a member of the organization committee, said Tuesday that Commissioner J. C. Holton, of Mississippi, and Harry D. Wilson, of Louisiana, with H. C. Brooks, of Columbia, S. C., secretary of the association, would arrive for the meeting at 10 o'clock.

Talmadge said the meeting would be attended by representatives of chambers of commerce, civic clubs, merchants and others who are interested in promoting the increased use of cotton.

RETENTION OF DOBBS ON BOARD IS ASSURED

Acting Mayor G. Everett Millican Tuesday approved the council resolution he forced through that body Monday authorizing appointment of non-residents to serve on borough boards where no compensation is paid, and thus assured the continued services of Samuel C. Dobbs, chairman of the Grady board of trustees, center of a recent controversy.

Millican also sanctioned a council resolution authorizing the Grady board to accept $40,000 from Fulton county direct, thus avoiding placing it in the general borough treasury and eliminating the 26 per cent of the amount which would have gone to the schools.

Provisional Mayor Pro Tem, J. Charlie Murphy, demanded Dobbs' resignation when he learned that Dobbs claimed on his tax returns he was not a resident of Atlanta and, therefore, not subject to personal property tax assessments.

Millican held Dobbs' service at Grady was indispensable, and council Monday afternoon, after a heated debate between Murphy and Millican, sustained the acting mayor by a vote of 26 to 9.

Although Dobbs has not amplified a letter he addressed to Millican before the council battle, his friends pointed out that he held at that time he would reconsider if council backed him. The large majority he had was taken to mean he has that backing.

Fulton county commissioners this afternoon are expected to ratify the $40,000 appropriation to Grady.

last election day of N. T. Byers, republican election judge, when he refused to follow instructions he said were given him by democratic precinct leaders to "hand out tickets" instead of remaining at the ballot boxes.

Cotton Week Rouses Interest in South's Chief Product; Stores Here Report Increased Sales as Result of Drive

Officers of the Atlanta Federation of Women's Clubs Monday acted as hostesses at Rich's, Inc., in celebration of National Cotton Week. A reception was held, during which models displayed cotton dress

Cotton, once the staple of the retailer, the meal ticket of the railroad, and the very existence of the Georgia farmer, and later the rapidly declining commodity, is coming into its own again. National Cotton Week, which was started Monday in an effort to reawaken the public to the varied uses of a home grown product, was signalled on the first day by displays, speeches and department store sales.

With a sizable percentage of the population of the state of Georgia directly dependent on the success of the celebration, it is not surprising that department stores throughout Atlanta selected Monday as the day to hold sales, giving the widest display possible to the myriad of cotton articles to be found in their stocks, some at reduced prices, some at standard prices, but all with the word cotton prominently displayed. Store managers said Tuesday that the first day showed a remarkable increase in merchandise.

Following the World War, when such feminine attire as the old-fashioned petticoat, cotton hose and long, long skirts began to give way to a newer freedom of clothing that doctors say has made a healthier woman, but producers insist has made it harder to support her. When the trend became apparent, however, manufacturing concerns began to experiment with fibre, bring forth many new developments that are just beginning to make themselves felt in the retail field. Stimulated silk, glistening sheens that no more resemble the old rough fabric than satin resembles broadcloth, are becoming popular because of their laundrying qualities and because of their lower cost.

T. M. Forbes, secretary of the Cotton Manufacturers' Association, which is sponsoring the cotton week, announced that there are 12,000,000 Americans directly dependent upon a revival of the usage of cotton for their livelihood. The textile industry, according to Mr. Forbes, has the largest percentage of wage earners of any industry in the country, and the highest value of manufactured products of any other industry, and furnishes 12.8 per cent of the manufactured products of the United States.

In his statement Commissioner Stewart said he always had favored co-ordination of county institutions to bring about the greatest good for the county in general.

"Ever since becoming a member of the commission I have favored placing all county institutions in one group so that the inmates of each might cooperate and thereby help each other," Mr. Stewart said. "In 1927 I sought to have the present almshouse removed and the space it occupied given over to a public park. However, I learned that the county, under the law, cannot build parks. Since that time the city has been developing the Bobby Jones golf course and the city of College Park has been building a park on the south side. So the need for a north side park has been cared for."

"However, the need for co-ordination of county institutions still remains. We have several convicts, institutions for boys and girls and they are strung out all over the county. If they were adjacent to each other we would find them helping one another, farming what land could be farmed and otherwise making them useful and less a burden to the county."

Mr. Stewart pointed out that the appraisal of the Atlanta Real Estate Board showed that the value of the 1,200 acres owned by the Chattahoochee Brick Company was equal to the value of the present almshouse site.

"However, Robert P. McLarty, the head of the county civic organizations, was not satisfied and the board had an impartial board of appraisers appointed," Mr. Stewart went on. "The majority of this board held that the properties were of equal value. Colonel F. W. Benteen and J. H. Ewing, the two members of this board submitted minority reports. Mr. Ewing held that the Chattahoochee property was worth $100,000 while Colonel Benteen's report was chiefly an argument

BIGAMY CHARGED TO GEORGIA MAN

J. D. O'Sullivan Held in Florida After Marrying 22-Year-Old Girl.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., June 2.—(AP)—J. D. O'Sullivan, alleged to have married the daughter of a Hazlehurst (Ga.) family when he already had a wife, is in jail here charged with bigamy.

O'Sullivan was married here April 2 to Louise O'Quinn. He was arrested in Jacksonville several days ago and returned here. A warrant charging bigamy was sworn to by J. J. O'Quinn, the girl's father.

Preliminary hearing was set for Thursday morning before Justice of the Peace Copeland.

Sheriff Caboon's office said O'Sullivan was said to be a wife in Atlanta, but they did not know her address.

Officers said nothing more was known here about O'Sullivan.

FATHER OF GIRL TO PRESS
CHARGES AGAINST MAN

HAZLEHURST, Ga., June 2.—(AP) J. J. O'Quinn, agent for the Southern railway here and a prominent citizen, has employed lawyers and says that he will prosecute J. D. O'Sullivan for his alleged bigamous marriage with his daughter, Louise.

The daughter, employed as a clerk in the bank of Hazlehurst, met O'Sullivan in the early spring of this year when he came here representing himself as an agent of the Bankers' Clock Company, of Atlanta, Ga.

They were acquainted about a month, the father says, when they went to Jacksonville, Fla., without the parents' consent, and were said to have been married there April 2.

They returned to Hazlehurst, however, and remained here about a month.

O'Sullivan represented himself as wealthy, it is stated, but his wealth appears to have been exhausted, for new trinkets back from Atlanta that a furniture company of that city reported to have been sold to O'Sullivan.

The O'Quinn family was traced to Knoxville, Tenn., where, according to the O'Quinn, he was arrested and taken to Jacksonville, Fla., where he is now in jail awaiting preliminary trial which is set for June 4, according to the O'Quinn.

The O'Quinn learned, they stated, that O'Sullivan had lived in Williamsburg, Ky., where they said he had a wife. But they do not know whether the Kentucky wife and the Knoxville and Atlanta wife are the same person.

Mr. O'Quinn stated that O'Sullivan, following his marriage to Miss Louise O'Quinn, made week-end trips to Brunswick, Jacksonville and Macon, but when he went to Atlanta he went alone.

John Rogers, lawyer, has been employed by the O'Quinn to help press the charges against O'Sullivan.

Meanwhile the daughter of Mr. O'Quinn is at the home of her parents here.

TOLD KNOXVILLE OFFICERS HE WAS ATLANTA INVENTOR

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., June 2.—(AP) J. D. O'Sullivan, who told officers here he was an inventor from Atlanta, has been taken from here to Jacksonville, Fla., by Chief Deputy Sheriff S. R. Caboon, who said he was wanted there on bigamy charges.

O'Sullivan was arrested by Knoxville detectives on the request of Atlanta and Hazlehurst, Ga., authorities, who did not give specific charges.

In the meantime the Jacksonville officer arrived and took charge of O'Sullivan. He told officers here the charges against O'Sullivan grew out of his alleged marriage to a young Georgia woman, and charged that the Atlanta man was not divorced from his first wife.

O'Sullivan had a large electrically operated clock in his possession and told officers he invented it. It was of aluminum and weighed about 200 pounds.

NO TRACE IS FOUND
OF O'SULLIVAN HERE

Efforts to locate an address in Atlanta of J. D. O'Sullivan were unavailing Tuesday night, and officers could be found of the Bankers' Clock Company, which O'Sullivan said he represented.

JAMES JONES LOSES
IN NEW TRIAL MOVE

RICHMOND, Va., June 2.—(AP)—Motions to suspend sentence and renew bail for James P. Jones, convicted of embezzling funds of the Virginia Methodist orphanage while serving as treasurer, were overruled in hustings court today, and Jones was taken to the city jail to start serving a five-year sentence.

Judge John L. Ingram, of hustings court, denied motions to suspend sentence and to renew bail bond of $15,000 pending an application to the United States supreme court for a writ of certiorari. The four gate Jones the choice of starting his sentence in the city jail or the state penitentiary, and Jones elected to go to the city jail.

FARM TEACHERS MEET IN TIFTON

Instructors of Vocational Agriculture Open First Annual Conference.

TIFTON, Ga., June 2.—(AP)—Teachers of vocational agriculture in south Georgia opened a three-day session Tuesday with 40 teachers and a number of visitors attending. The meeting was featured by addresses covering the field of operations of the instructors.

Robert D. Maltz, federal agent of agricultural education in south Georgia, said the task of the vocational teacher is to develop the ability of the student to handle the farm successfully and to develop the home, supplementing classroom instruction with practical farm practices. He said south Georgia has made a particularly rapid development in its vocational program in the last two years, especially in the number of adult students enrolled in classes, which now doubled the number of boys.

Lawrence Myers, of Washington senior economist, United States department of agriculture, gave the history of the development of the farm vocational program, the purpose of which is to assemble the facts on the supply and demand and probable price trends and submit them to the farmers' advisory board for guidance in planning the year's operations, thus giving the farmers actual conditions before planting, instead of forcing them to wait until selling to learn of their situation.

The new high school, farm management specialist, gave eight factors for successful farm operations, stressing the necessity of keeping accurate records enabling the farmer to ascertain where his profit and loss is and how to overcome the losses.

John W. Fanning, extension farm management specialist, urged community and county farmers to maintain where his profit and loss is and how to overcome the losses.

Founder's Daughters Guests At Brenau College Exercises

GAINESVILLE, Ga., June 2.—Mrs. Dixie Wilkes McDaniel, of Norcross, and Mrs. Laura Wilkes Brock, of Knoxville, daughters of Dr. William Clay Wilkes, founder of Brenau College, were guests at the fifty-second annual commencement of that college here.

Mrs. McDaniel tells in a most interesting manner the early history of this now famous school; how her father, a Baptist preacher and a teacher, established what was then called the Georgia Baptist Female Seminary. "My father and his nine-year-old son, Eugene, would ride the hills of north Georgia soliciting funds for the school, and it was a great day when the cornerstone was laid in 1878," she said. She said that Dr. Wilkes also taught at Easton, Dalton, Forsyth before establishing the seminary, now Brenau. Mrs. McDaniel was assistant music teacher at Brenau after her graduation.

Mrs. McDaniel, who graduated 51 years ago, has been elected national honorary president of the Brenau Alumnae Association, and she is also a trustee of the college. Mrs. Brock was a member of the class of 1886, and because of the death of Dr. Wilkes and illness at commencement time their diplomas were not delivered until recently.

Kenneth Treanor, farm management specialist, gave eight factors for successful farm operations, stressing the necessity of keeping accurate records enabling the farmer to ascertain where his profit and loss is and how to overcome the losses.

SWAINSBORO MAN ADmits MURDER

Complete Confession in
"Pyre" Death Is Claimed
by County Officers.

SWAINSBORO, Ga., June 2.—(AP) Sheriff Otis Coleman here today confirmed the reported confession of George Clay in connection with the murder of Ellie B. McBride on Wednesday night, May 13, at a filling station near this city. In the confession, officers said, Clay implicated H. L. Dixon and Cliff Hightower, but he did not implicate Edwin Davis.

The relief said that Clay accompanied them to the scene of the crime and described in detail how McBride had been murdered.

The pistol which was found near the burned filling station was unloaded and apparently had not been fired. Its owner is as yet unknown.

Clay alleged to have told officers that Dixon dropped the pistol when he stumbled over a limb of a tree while carrying one of the slot machines to the spot where they were broken open.

County officers stated that the prisoners will be given a commitment hearing on next Tuesday. Clay will not meet here until the last Monday in June, it was announced.

The confession of Clay is said to have been made in the presence of Sheriff Coleman and Solicitor M. L. Gross, of Sandersville.

Cliff Hightower, one of the accused men, is a member of a prominent family in this county. He is now in jail, and lawyers are lining up for his defense already. Attorney Dampier, of Dublin, and Felix Williams, of Swainsboro, have been employed for Hightower.

Solicitor Gross is to be assisted in the prosecution of the case by H. A. Wood, of Swainsboro.

It was asserted tonight that the prisoners are being kept apart in separate jails and their whereabouts are known only to the sheriff.

Mr. Gross, who is in charge of the case, said he did not care to discuss the case. "We are trying the bits of evidence together," he said, "and we are trying to protect the innocent in getting out the facts."

The officers stated that while no case had been established against Davis, they had tonight made a deal with him in jail until after the preliminary hearing.

UTILITIES AMENDMENT SOUGHT BY AUGUSTANS

AUGUSTA, Ga., June 2.—(AP)—The Augusta city council today was on record requesting the legislature to submit to voters an amendment to the constitution making it easier for municipalities to own power, gas and water plants.

Council last night unanimously passed a resolution on the matter, which was forwarded here by the city council with a request for favorable action. There was no debate in the Augusta council before voting.

City Attorney J. Paul Stephens said the resolution has the approval of the legislative committee of the Municipal Utilities Association, of which William M. Lester, Augusta, legislator-elect, is chairman.

A letter from the Thomasville council approving the resolution said that under present constitutional limitations cities could not finance their own plants because their bonds could not be sold for more than 7 per cent of assessed valuations.

Three young men of Homer are offering two ads on how to catch snakes—don't use an automobile. Roy Grayson, W. T. Forbes and Schuyler Jones discovered a large coonbury. The highway near the coonbury was here. They decided to capture it for a Y. M. C. A. circus. The snake crawled under the car and wrapped itself around the battery. As the floor boards were being removed it shifted its position to the ignition board where it curled around the wires and gadgets. After 45 minutes of effort it was cornered in the rear of the car.

Aaron Jones, 30, said he was shooting at a coonbury and Recorder Henderson Lanham, of Rome, held that chickens at 9 p. m., when two policemen were near the one of fire. Jones was bound over to superior court on charges of shooting at another and fined $25 on charges of drunk and disorderly.

"Better than 20 miles to the gallon." "Its cost-per-mile is the lowest of any car." "Never have to add oil between crank-case changes." "Drove from Ohio to California on a repair expense of $1.05." "It just runs and runs and runs."

In each day's mail, the Chevrolet Motor Company and its dealers receive comments like these from Chevrolet owners. Some of them tell about the unusual gasoline and oil mileage they are getting from the Chevrolet six-cylinder engine. Some praise the way their cars keep running, day after day, month after month, without need for adjustments or repair. Others remark about the low cost of Chevrolet's standardized service. Still others pay tribute to Chevrolet's remarkably long life.

Yet more impressive even than these are the unsolicited reports that come from leading American business firms who use large fleets of Chevrolets. These firms keep daily account of the money spent on their cars in the field. Their records show that Chevrolet costs less for gasoline, oil, upkeep and service than any other automobile! And this matchless economy has been achieved with no sacrifice of appearance or comfort—no sacrifice of dependability and long life. The reasons for this unusually economical operation are as follows:

1. Efficient Engine Design. Every feature of the Chevrolet motor that affects fuel and oil economy has been the subject of specially intensive study and development by Chevrolet engineers. The result is that 20 miles to the gallon of gasoline is a common experience with owners. And the small amount of oil used is equally impressive.

2. Modern Chassis Design. An important reason for Chevrolet's day-after-day dependability lies in its modern chassis design. For example: The long, heavy, 152-inch frame supports the body rigidly throughout its length. And Chevrolet's six-cylinder motor minimizes the wearing vibration that can lead to so many repair bills.

Chevrolet's 152" frame is rigidly braced and supports the body throughout its entire length, effectively resisting road shock.

3. Excellence of Manufacture. As just one example of the extreme care used in building the Chevrolet Six—pistons are matched to within 1/2 ounce and individually fitted to less than three thousandths of an inch clearance. Piston pins, too, are allowed to vary in size only 3/16 of one thousandth of an inch and are individually fitted to their bushings. As a result of precision like this, thousands of Chevrolet owners have traveled 20,000 miles or more without having their motors opened for major servicing.

4. High-Quality Materials. Chevrolet rear axle gears are built of costly 3 1/2 per cent

Chevrolet's long lived, grey iron pistons are built within close limits of precision, and are bushed with high-grade bronze.

nickel steel. Pistons are bushed with high-grade bronze. Transmission gears and springs are made of chrome-vanadium steel.

Brake linings are a special high-quality moulded type. Obviously, a car made of such fine materials must cost less to maintain.

5. Economical Nationwide Service.

Over 10,000 authorized Chevrolet service stations offer extremely low flat-rate charges on both labor and genuine parts. No charge is made for any of the parts or the labor involved in any replacements made under the terms of Chevrolet's liberal Owner's Service Policy.

If you want a car that will serve you through the years at the lowest cost, choose a Chevrolet Six. In addition to all the basic economies above—Chevrolet Chevrolet's Owner's Service Policy is the most liberal ever offered in connection with a low-priced car.

offers the extra advantage of one of the lowest delivered prices on the market. And this cost may be spread over a period of many months by the liberal G.M.A.C. plan.

Rail Ills Not All Traceable To Depression, Writer Shows

Competition From Other Forms of Transportation Independent of Economic Disturbance.

Editor's Note—This is the third of a series of four articles discussing the problem confronting the railroads of the United States today.

BY G. GOULD LINCOLN.
(Copyright, 1931, for The Constitution by the North American Newspaper Alliance, Inc.)

WASHINGTON, June 2.—The problem of the railroads today goes far beyond the business depression. If there had been no depression, the railroads still would have to contend, as they are contending, with an ever-increasing competition from other forms of transportation.

These forms of transportation, which have cut into railroad traffic, both passenger and freight, to an enormous extent in recent years, include the motor truck and motor bus, the private passenger automobile, inland waterway transportation, the Panama canal, the pipe line, the transmission of the power generated in hydro-electric and other power plants and air carriers. The electric power so developed and transported cuts vitally into the use of coal and its transportation by the railroads.

The American public, of course, is entitled to the best transportation, both freight and passenger, at the lowest reasonable cost, whether this transportation is by railroads or by their competitors. However, the executives of the railroads contend that they are entitled to a fair chance with all their industrial competitors. Today the railroads account for about three-fourths of the freight traffic of the country, but for less than one-fifth of the interurban passenger travel.

Loss in Passengers.
The roads have been able to meet the competition of the other agencies of transportation far better in freight than they have in passenger transportation. The Association of Railway Executives has issued a declaration of policy which it deems necessary to the continuance of adequate transportation service to the public. Incidentally, it may be said that these executives consider that the recommendations made by the association are vitally connected with the ability of the steam railroads to continue to operate profitably.

Among the recommendations of the roads are the regulation of motor bus and motor truck operations. Such regulation must be brought about through congressional action so far as interstate commerce is concerned. The roads ask, too, that in any law for the regulation of motor bus and truck operations, there should be no discriminatory provision against the railroads operating in the same field.

Congress had before it at its last session a bill for the regulation of motor buses in interstate commerce. The measure, known as the Parker bill, passed the house. When it went to the senate provisions were written into the measure by the senate interstate commerce committee and by the senate itself which sought to limit operation of the railroads in highway transportation.

There were several other amendments to the bill distasteful to the railroads and immediately the executives of the roads busied themselves in opposition to these senate amendments. The result was that the bill was sent back to the committee, and the senate did not take any action.

"Wide Open."
So far as congress is concerned the situation that now exists regarding government regulation of motor buses

Georgia Gang Escape "Captured" in Prison

Volley Lee Jackson, an escaped federal prisoner, who walked off from the Chatham county chain gang last February, has been "captured," the department of justice announced Tuesday. Jackson was "captured" in the District of Columbia jail, where he is serving a three-year term.

He was received at the federal prison here last year and assigned to the Chatham gang, from which he fled. The search for him ended when the justice department found that the fingerprints of a man at the Washington jail were those of Jackson.

The bill which failed in the last congress made no attempt to regulate the motor truck, largely because the vast amount of freight carried this way is moved under private contract and not by common carriers. The railroad executives argue that contract motor trucks, engaged in interstate commerce, should be regulated by the government in the same measure that railroads are regulated, and in the same measure that it has been proposed to regulate motor buses as common carriers and those trucks which operate as common carriers.

In a brief recently filed by the Association of Railway Executives with the interstate commerce commission, in the commission's inquiry into the co-ordination of motor transportation, it is estimated that about 40 per cent of less than carload freight is now moved by truck. It is asserted that a substantial volume of such carload commodities including cotton, live stock, fruits and vegetables, cement, gasoline, automobiles and parts, explosives and oil well supplies, are carried by trucks, some as far as 300 miles, some for 1,200 miles and the larger part even longer distances by trucks which are not common carriers.

It is argued that if these trucks cannot be regulated they are in a position to destroy common carrier trucks that are regulated and they can impair seriously the efficiency of the railroads, which are very much regulated. The roads contend these trucks can undermine the common carriers as to rates and thereby take over the business.

Inter-Sectional Friendship Urged By Visiting Editor

Henry W. Grady's immortal bid for inter-sectional friendship, spoken by a southerner before an eastern club a generation ago, was echoed by a northerner speaking before a southern club Tuesday when H. Z. Mitchell, editor and humorist of Midji, Minn., addressed the weekly luncheon meeting of the Atlanta Kiwanis Club at the Anley hotel.

Mr. Mitchell hurled shafts of keen wit into the provincialism that breeds distrust and non-operation between distant sections of America and asserted that one of the most important services rendered by Kiwanis clubs is to extend the vision and sympathy of its members beyond the borders of their own communities and states. The speaker was introduced by Henry Heinz, past president of Kiwanis International. Artists from the Fanchon & Marco unit at the Fox theater this week presented a program of entertainment under direction of Carter Barron, manager of the Fox theater and member of the Kiwanis entertainment committee.

ROCKEFELLER FIRM TO MAINTAIN WAGES

Manager Says "No Progressive Management Will Cut Wages."

DENVER, June 2.—(UP)—John D. Rockefeller Jr., today threw the weight of his tremendous wealth against wage cutting in industry, an act climaxing 25 years of warfare between the Rockefeller-controlled Colorado Fuel & Iron Company and labor.

It was taken through Arthur Roeder, one-time dollar watch salesman, whom Rockefeller sent west two years ago to assume the presidency of the C. F. & I.

Roeder wrote the state industrial commission that "no progressive management will cut wages or salaries just because the opportunity to do so presents itself."

Thus Roeder aligned the C. F. & I. against many other concerns of the state, prosecution of 17 of which is sought by the State Federation of Labor for cutting wages without complying with the state industrial law.

Chairman Thomas Annear of the industrial commission was jubilant over Roeder's letter.

CUNNINGHAM HEADS SCHOOL OF BANKING

Dr. Thornwell Jacobs, president of Oglethorpe University, Tuesday announced the election of Dr. Wallace McCook Cunningham, formerly of the University of Southern California, as dean of the Lowry school of banking and commerce at Oglethorpe.

The new dean holds degrees of master of arts and doctor of philosophy from the University of Pennsylvania. He was associated with financial schools in New York before going to California, where he became dean.

He also was chosen as president of the California Stock Exchange at Los Angeles. He will teach three courses this summer in Oglethorpe's "school of the air" by radio, Dr. Jacobs announced.

CLARK GRADUATES ARE GIVEN DEGREES

Clark University Tuesday closed its most successful session, with more than 100 graduates in all departments. Of this number 53 received bachelor's degrees. The commencement address was delivered by the Rev. D. Witherspoon Dodge, pastor of the Central Congregational church. His subject was, "Meeting the Challenge of Life." A new gymnasium, which was completed during the year, was formally turned over to the school by W. J. Faulkner, one of the builders, during the exercises. A bronze tablet in honor of the wife of Bishop F. T. Keeney, in whose memory the library is named, also was presented. It was announced that $85,000 had been subscribed in the campaign now being conducted and that the goal now is $100,000.

BENSON GIVEN LIFE FOR CELL SLAYING

Willie Benson Tuesday was sentenced to serve a life term in prison for the fatal stabbing of Frank Burrell in a cell at police headquarters on the night of April 8, of this year. Benson entered a plea of guilty. Assistant Solicitor-General Ed A. Stephens agreeing to the life term which was handed down by Judge Virlyn B. Moore in Fulton superior court.

Benson entered his plea just as the jury was completed for trial of his case. At the outset he had entered a plea of not guilty.

SECRETARY WILBUR SPEAKS AT TUSCULUM

GREENEVILLE, Tenn., June 2.—(AP)—Intelligent, trained leadership was termed essential "to the solution of the present day American difficulties" by Secretary Ray Lyman Wilbur in the 136th annual commencement address today at Tusculum College, oldest institution of higher learning west of the Alleghany mountains.

"There are certain universal laws that have always existed which act in the same way at all times, regardless of any condition," he said. "Doubtless some day we will discover there are similar psychological laws which control economic depressions, problems of government and other questions which harass human beings."

RUN DOWN BY AUTO, MAN BADLY INJURED

B. E. Newman, of Bolton, who was knocked down by an automobile Monday and taken to Grady hospital in an unconscious condition, Tuesday was found to have a fractured skull, according to physicians. His condition was said to be serious.

Newman was knocked down while he was crossing the street from a filling station on Marietta road by an automobile driven by Miss Gann, whose father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Gann, of Smyrna, were in the car at the time. A passing motorist took Newman to the hospital. Mr. Gann riding with them, while Miss Gann and Mrs. Gann followed in their automobile.

Program Ready for Reunion Of Tech's Pioneer Graduates

Committee Meets and Issues Call for Help in Locating Missing Members of Three Classes.

Survivors of the group of 125 student registrants and faculty members who in 1888 opened Georgia Tech are eligible for membership in the Pioneer Tech Association and are expected to attend the Atlanta reunion June 8. This inclusion of all registrants as well as graduates and faculty members of the 1890-91 and '92 period was emphasized in a meeting Tuesday of the Atlanta reunion committee which adopted a program for the exercises, consolidated the lists of eligibles whose names are being known and issued a general call for aid in locating those whose addresses have not been listed to date.

This meeting was held in the office of J. B. McCarry, '91. Those attending were W. H. Glenn, '91; H. H. Norman, 40 years instructor in Tech woodshops and founder of Tech band; Horace Thompson, forge shop instructor since 1888; William Van Houten, in charge of the foundry department since 1880 and the only faculty member who has seen each of the 41 classes graduate at Tech, and R. J. Thiesen, secretary, National Georgia Tech Alumni Association, who is operating with the Pioneer Tech Association to make the reunion a complete success.

The program adopted seeks to duplicate as far as possible in the assembly personnel of June 8 the assembly of the original faculty and student body entering and opening Tech in September, 1888. The assembly will be held in Tech chapel, beginning at 9 a. m., with the original roll call. After an inspection of the shops and academic buildings to enable the pioneers to contrast the original $35,000 Tech equipment with the present equipment valued at $4,000,000 or more, the group will attend the dedication exercises of the Tuganheim aeronautical building. Tech commencement exercises will be attended at 10:15 a. m., after which the pioneers will be given a buffet luncheon at the home of Dr. M. L. Brittain, Tech president, and a round-table banquet at 7 p. m. will be a feature of the day's program and at this affair plans will be formulated for future reunions and early Tech history will be discussed and put in permanent form.

Only two graduates issued from Georgia Tech in its first graduating exercises in 1890. These were Henry L. Smith, now president of Smith Manufacturing Company, Dalton, Ga., and George Gordon Crawford, president of Jones & Laughlin Steel Company, Pittsburgh, Pa. Mr. Smith claims to be the first graduate by virtue of receiving the first diploma handed out by Dr. I. S. Hopkins, first Tech president. Mr. Crawford will receive during the reunion the first honorary degree to be conferred by Georgia Tech. He recently wrote to Mr. McCarry: "It is time to hold a reunion of the pioneer Tech students. You addressed me as George Washington Crawford, though to the best of my recollection it went on the roll as George Gordon Crawford."

The 1892 class roll, taken from Tech records, is the list of pioneer registrants the Atlanta committee is working on to locate the survivors. The roll is as follows:

J. C. Almond, Conyers, Ga.; H. J. Anthony, Valdosta, Ga.; J. H. Anderson, Ga.; Charles E. Ard, Lumpkin, Ga.; E. W. Arnold, Lexington, Ga.; H. T. Barkdale, Marietta, Ga.; R. L. CLEARWATER, Fla., June 2.—(AP)—A delegation of Clearwater and St. Petersburg citizens will go to Tallahassee tomorrow seeking to have a bill introduced in the legislature which would divide the state of Florida into two separate states.

In the proposed bill, drawn up at a meeting of the board of governors of the Chamber of Commerce last night, the state would be divided into North Florida and South Florida, with North Florida to be composed of 26 counties and South Florida 41. North Florida, under the proposal, would take in Jacksonville, Gainesville and Pensacola.

SENATE SUSTAINS FLORIDA RACE BILL

Governor's Veto Overridden; House Now To Pass Again on Measure.

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., June 2.—(AP)—Whether racing and pari-mutuel wagering will be legalized in Florida now rests with the house of representatives after the senate today overrode the veto of Governor Doyle E. Carlton.

The senate vote was 26 to 12. If the house likewise can muster a two-thirds majority, the measure will become law despite the governor's disapproval. The measure originally passed the senate, 20 to 15, and was adopted in the house, 55 to 38.

Proposed as a means of settling the long controversy over horse and dog racing in this state, the bill provided that the state receive 3 per cent of the gross wagers and 15 per cent of the admissions.

Governor Carlton vetoed the bill because he "considered it unsound and unwise from an economic, political and moral standpoint to commit the state to a partnership in gambling in any form."

Today's action in the senate hinged on the vote of one senator who changed his ballot. Senator T. J. Knabb first voted to support the governor's veto. He changed his vote before the final count was announced. Had he not done so, the governor would have been sustained, 25 to 13.

The racing bill was introduced in the senate by originally by Senators Watson, Miami, and Taylor, St. Augustine. It provides for local option by referendum in counties where racing is not now being conducted.

There was no indication when the house would consider the veto. The bill was certified to the house immediately after the senate vote, and was placed at the head of the calendar where it can be called for at any time for consideration.

The majority and minority blocs of the house today joined to postpone for the time being the bill to distribute part of the state's gasoline tax equally among the counties, thereby cutting the filibuster which has blocked house progress since last Thursday morning.

The action was taken on motion of Representative Caldwell, Santa Rosa, the majority leader, to informally pass consideration of the bill after Representative Mathews, Duval, the minority leader, declared his bloc was ready to compromise "having gained our point by justified filibuster."

Even if the bill is passed by the house and senate, Governor Carlton said he would veto it.

Appropriation of $7,500,000 for a standard eight-month school term in every county in Florida was approved by the state senate today, 25 to 10.

The house of representatives previously voted the same appropriation.

He is keeping his own counsel and is not likely to reveal to the group of prospective vice presidential candidates: "I have decided nothing. I may have something to say in the fall. I may not."

ATLANTANS OBSERVE BIRTHDAY OF JEFFERSON DAVIS

Patriotic Organizations Plan Appropriate Exercises

The south will pause today to pay homage to Jefferson Davis. In honor of the one hundred and twenty-third anniversary of his birth, patriotic pride and an abiding love of his memory will be expressed in various ways, paying tribute to Davis as president of the Confederacy, as a soldier, a statesman and a gentleman. C.; and Camp 159, United Confederate Veterans, to be held at 3 o'clock this afternoon at the Atlanta chapter house at the corner of Juniper and Sixth streets. Dr. Louis D. Newton will deliver the principal address, and an interesting feature will be the award of military crosses of honor and service by the two U. D. C. chapters participating. ## TALKING IT OVER BY CAROLINE CHATFIELD

Problems of general interest submitted by readers will be discussed in this column. Correspondence invited. Your name held in confidence. Write Miss Chatfield, care The Atlanta Constitution.

DEAR MISS CHATFIELD:

A few years ago I married a man who gave all sorts of promises to treat my daughter as a father. I had been a widow for several years and my daughter was 14. Before many months passed he developed a violent antagonism toward her and he made her life a misery. He not only begrudged her the place she had in my heart, he begrudged her the food she ate. I was in a terrible dilemma, trying to decide where my duty lay. I loved my husband and I loved my daughter. I couldn't bear to be separated from either one, yet life was unendurable to all of us as long as we tried to live together. My daughter went on a visit to my sister in another town and has remained there. Now the question is this with me: Should I allow my second husband to separate me from my only child? ANXIOUS.

ANSWER:

You shouldn't allow your husband to separate you from your only child, but if it is practical for you to maintain separate residences I should think it most advisable. If your daughter can find a happy and welcome home with your sister, it would be cruel to the three of you to try to live under one roof. The husband and step-father has shown that he cannot get away with you. You acknowledge that it was a wretched arrangement for yourself and the child couldn't be happy living in a home where food was begrudged her. The fact that you are not living in the house with your daughter doesn't mean that you are separated spiritually. Of course the arrangement is not ideal, but it is much better than the old way.

Can you not manage to go to see your daughter regularly and on rare occasions have her pay you short visits? There is no use to dwell on the wicked attitude of your husband to your child. It is hard to teach an old dog new tricks. The likelihood is that his antagonism will increase rather than diminish with the years and a home where there is jealousy and hatred and malice is not a home at all but a penitentiary where the inmates are condemned to a life term of wretchedness.

You have cut out for yourself a life-time job of keeping the scales of justice in balance. But you say you love both the husband and the daughter and that fact will make it worth your while to devote your life to it. CAROLINE CHATFIELD.

DEAR MISS CHATFIELD:

I am married to a good woman whom I love, but she has one little mannerism that annoys me immensely. When she's not talking she keeps her tongue stuck out all the time. I have done everything I know to do to break her of the habit but it does no good. It has gotten on my nerves and I want to know what to do about it. C. E.

ANSWER:

A doctor tells me that adenoids might account for the queer habit. Take your wife to an eye, ear, nose and throat specialist. CAROLINE CHATFIELD.

Beauty Fashions

A CHARMING AFTERNOON FROCK.

7176. Printed chiffon in red and white is here combined with white organdy of which the vestee and ruffles are made. Graceful shaping is achieved in the joining of the yoke to the skirt, which flares in animated fullness. The ruffles may be omitted, and the sleeve finished in wrist length. Handkerchief lined, or eyelet embroidery would be nice for this model. Printed silk is also suggested.

Designed in three sizes: 34, 36, 38, 40, 42 and 44 inches bust measure. A 38-inch size will require 6-14 yards of 36-inch material if made with the collar. Without the collar 5-8 yards will be required. The width of the dress at the lower edge with fullness extended is 3-1/2 yards.

Pattern mailed to any address on receipt of 10 cents in silver or stamps.

A Dainty Little Frock For A Tiny Girl.

HERE is a purely vegetable medicine which has benefited thousands of men, women and children, and which you should try when troubled with constipation, indigestion, or biliousness. Mr. H. H. Rogillo, of Lake Charles, La., writes: "When I let myself get constipated, I feel dull and sluggish and all out of sorts, not equal to my work. When one has this feeling it is time to take something before it feels worse. I certainly have found Black-Draught very quick to relieve. I used to have severe sick headaches and suffer a great deal. This medicine cured my constipation, and that Black-Draught would correct it. That is why I began using TREDGOLD'S."

BY JOHN L. COOLEY.
NEW YORK, June 2.—(AP)—Although stocks closed lower again today, the market looked much less dragged than after the heavy selling on Monday. Net losses in pivotal stocks were moderate and a number of important issues returned to near gains. There were, however, rather wide declines in specialties. Sales totaled 3,300,000 shares, 200,000 larger than yesterday's turnover.

United States Steel, after losing a point at the opening, rallied to 88 1/4, only to drop to 87 1/4 by 1:30. The closing quotation was 87 1/4, or 1 1/2 points lower. In other specialties, American Locomotive, after losing a point, closed at 44 1/2, or 1 1/2 points lower. American Locomotive, after losing a point, closed at 44 1/2, or 1 1/2 points lower.

Food stocks recovered. General Electric, Liggett & Myers, "B," American Tobacco, "B," Bethlehem Steel, General Electric and Johnson & Johnson were firm. Standard Oil shares sagged, apparently in expectation that the government would take an appeal in the Seacoast-Vacuum case, which was expected to be decided in the near future. Several carriers finished higher.

There was a feeling in brokerage circles that the Canadian tariff revisions, affecting many American products, had induced some selling, although the extent of the movement was not as pronounced as it had been in the past. Collateral borrowings of New York Stock Exchange members dropped $216,444.74 in May, a smaller reduction than was made in the previous month, but considerably larger than the less inclusive federal reserve brokers' loan decline.

A further reduction in steel operations was reported by American Metal Market, which noted a recession of 2 points to 40 per cent of capacity. The publication looks for a rather sharp seasonal gain in July, which is expected to witness the low of the current downward movement. Freight loadings for the week ended May 23, since about 8,000 cars, which is more encouraging, especially since the rise in the same week of 1930 amounted to only 2,000 cars.

Cotton was weak, setting up another set of new lows and closing 15 to 22 points lower. Wheat was steady, with firming in some grades, but no more corn also showed narrow net changes. Foreign exchanges continued strong.

NEW YORK, June 2.—(AP)—Maintaining the level of activity with which the week opened, the curb market today experienced a feeble effort to turn
the tide, before settling into new low ground for the year.

A brief rally in the morning from new lows established in heavy selling at the outset proved short-lived and
the close found all sections of the list
with the exception of utilities, showing
net losses on the day's movement. Power Company shares at pressure and the more active issues
showed fractional changes either way
at the close.

The petroleum shares again found
a one-sided market and dipped further coincident with the news of other companies cutting crude prices in the mid-continent area and the discount on new oil showing production increase.

Standard issues were weak, Nebraska sagging 3-4 and Standard Oil dropping 1-2. Cities Service duplicated its loss of the previous day.

Some of the investment trust and
other company shares fared poorly,
notably the Mayflower shares, which yielded 6-1/2 and Continental, which preferred which reacted 1-3/4.

After an ineffective effort to rally
in the morning, the main group of narrowly turned out and held in a Share preferred and Duke lost one each.

In some cases on inactive securities,
quotations are based on last day's closing prices obtained from Curtis & Co. or other organization, or other sources.

BY ALEXANDER HENDERSON.

NEW YORK, June 2.—(AP)—The
bond market made a general decline
today and the turnover made another increase. Sales on the stock exchange totaled $14,108,000 compared with $13,472,000 on Monday.

A number of low prices for this year were reached, especially among the industrial and railroad loans. Average prices for 10 representative issues
in each of these two groups and the composite average for these 20 bonds
for this year are as follows:

The industrial and railroad average was 100.00. Only the utility average is higher than the low record for a little today also.

The action was about the same as yesterday. Even many of the utility and gilt edge obligations came in
at a discount.

Many of the widest losses occurred
among the loans of the St. Louis United States government obligations were quiet until the second half of the session, when activity increased and prices advanced. Closing prices of many of these issues were within fractional points of the 1931 peak.
